

Sinclair Broadcast Group's move to air their political propaganda in the form of the Kerry 'documentary' is tantamount to electioneering. The public interest is not served when a large corporation uses it's power to subvert the political process by calling a slanderous piece of propaganda 'news' or 'documentary' then forcing it on the local affiliates. Most responsible broadcast companies would not abandon objectivity, especially this close to the election. If the Sinclair group goes through with this, the F.C.C. should not renew their license. Thank you.
Robert Harvey